

Dear Jeanine

Well I tried to call you again today. One of these days I will be able to get it through. I'm going to try again in the morning. I hope you are home. If not the next time I will be able to try will be Tuesday.

I wrote home last night and asked my dad to send the required certificates you requested. As soon as I get them I think I'll send them to you so I won't have to worry about forgetting them. I put in for 3 weeks leave starting on the 16th of January. I'm going to try and hop rides to get to the states so it should take 3 or 4 days to get to Kingsport. I still don't know where we should go on a honeymoon. We can talk it over when I get there. I didn't get a passport because it doesn't look like we will have time or money to get to South America. I don't need one for trinidad but you do. Don't forget to have your shots. Also don't worry about changing the name on your passport. It will be easier to take care of after we get back to Trinidad.

I still haven't gotten any word about housing in Trinidad. You know after marrying me you may not even have a roof over you head. I'm sure I'll know something within a week. If we can't get base housing I'll start looking in town. I already have found a fairly nice place if there is a vacancy at the time. But don't worry, you are coming back with me. After thinking it over that may cause you to worry.

Well honey I think I'll go see the show tonight. I wish you a Happy New Year – with me. I promise to try and behave myself this weekend. I sure hope you are home tomorrow morning.

I love you sweetheart
