

Dear Jeanine

Happy New Year to you and the rest of the family. I know it will be for you Jeanine especially this year. The year you're to be married.

I have something very personal to discuss with you Jeaninie, and it is not with the intent to hurt your feelings. Here I go. I know that Mrs Dausin has sent you a very beautiful gift and has bought loads of other things for you personally and things you can use together, she is very big hearted and is very happy and excited about the coming wedding. Her feelings have been hurt very much, since she has not heard a word from you since before christmas, and too about not receiving a clipping of the write up in your newspaper. I know to a lot of people things like this do not bother them, but it is her son's marriage too and feels a little left out.
